WRIGHT & PIERCE LOSE SUIT AGAINST TOWN

DENIED ADDITIONAL $8000 FOR REVALUATION SURVEY

A suit against the Town of Wilmington, for an additional fee of $8,000, by Wright and Pierce, of Topsham, Maine, has resulted in a verdict for the town. Town Counsel Philip Buzzell has been advised.

The suit, before Justice William T. McCarthy, in the First District Federal Court, was heard last winter, and lasted for about a week, during which many officials of the town were called to the stand.

Wright and Pierce alleged that the Town of Wilmington did not furnish proper records for them to use, in their survey of the town, for which they were paid the sum of $11,363, a sum for which they had contracted to do the work.

$27,000 was appropriated by the town for the entire work, and Wright and Pierce did only a part of the work, in their mapping, other companies being employed on the project as well.

Among those who testified for the town during the trial were former Town Managers Joseph Courtney and Fred Calabrese, Selectmen Nicholas De Felice and Mrs Wavie Drew, and the Wilmington Board of Assessors.

Mrs Sheldon, of the Board of Assessors, was on the stand for four days during the trial and Nick De Felice spent more than six days on the stand. Mr. Calabrese was recalled from his present position in Westport Connecticut, and managed to finish his testimony in one day, to the surprise of observers who were at the trial.

The testimony of Wright and Pierce was refuted by all Town officials, who, to quote Mr De Felice's testimony, stated that Wright and Pierce were hired because the town wished to get records complete, and they were furnished all the records that the town had.

'If we had had complete records, we wouldn't have hired them' said Mr. De Felice.

The formal opinion of Justice McCarthy has not yet been handed down, but is expected in a few days, according to Town Counsel Philip Buzzell.

SAINT DOROTHY'S ALTAR TO BE BLESSED SUNDAY

The altar of the new $275,000 Saint Dorothy's Church, now nearing completion at the corner of Hamden Street and Main Street is to be blessed by clergy of the Roman Catholic Church, Sunday morning, at 8:30 am.

The Right Reverend Francis Sexton, Vice Chancellor, will lead the dignitaries, and will invoke the blessing.

The new church has been under construction for some months, and is expected to be opened for regular services within a month.

Father Joseph Leahy, Parish Priest of St. Dorothy's has requested that the boys and girls of the parish be present at the new church at 8:15 am Sunday.

There is to be no religious education classes for the children Saturday.

WHA REQUEST FOR EXECUTIVE MEETING NIXED BY SELECTMEN

ONLY OFFERING SELECTMEN A COURTESY SAYS WHA

A request for an Executive Meeting between the Wilmington Housing Authority and the Board of Selectmen, by the WHA was turned down, Monday night, by the Selectmen.

Donald C. Kidder made the motion, which was affirmatively voted that the meeting be open to the public, 'because we have been waiting for four years for news about Urban Renewal'.

The request by the WHA named May 10th as the time for the meeting, but the Selectmen are unable to meet until May 24th and have so notified the WHA.

Members of the Wilmington Housing Authority, in their meeting Tuesday night explained that their offer to the Selectmen was simply intended as a gesture of courtesy.

'As the governing board of the Town of Wilmington, we believed they were entitled to the right to hear the details of the Urban Renewal plan before others' William Agreeable Smith, Chairman of the WHA stated. He was seconded by the other members

FIRE INSURANCE PETITION BEING CIRCULATED AROUND SILVER LAKE

A petition is being circulated in the Silver Lake area of Wilmington which is to ask the Board of Selectmen to request action from the State Insurance Commissioner, with reference to the high fire insurance costs of the area.

A 'special area' exists there in which costs of fire insurance are almost double the costs elsewhere. The 'special area' was delineated many years ago because of the many pine trees and summer camps in the area, a condition which hardly exists today.

The area starts at Bridge Lane and goes north, along the railroad, to the Lake Street Bridge. It cuts across Silver Lake to a point near Williams Avenue, and then returns to Bridge Lane. A strip 100 feet wide from Verandah Avenue to Bridge Lane is exempted.

Inside the 'special area' the fire insurance rate is 35¢ per $100 per year. Outside the area the rate is 19¢.

Steve Wendell, of Grove Ave. is one of those circulating the petition.

THE POWER OF EMINENT DOMAIN

Our state legislature in the past week has passed a bill giving the Town of Wilmington the power, through the Housing Authority, of taking by eminent domain some 40,000 square feet of land belonging to the Boston & Maine Railroad, near Wilmington Square. Governor Furcolo is expected to sign this bill sometime this week.

The town will have to adopt this bill in Town Meeting, it being of the so-called "permissive legislation" variety, before the bill actually becomes law. It will undoubtedly be a part and parcel of the entire Urban Renewal project and be a part of the same Town Meeting at which that subject will be discussed and voted for or against, by the people of Wilmington.

The point of the legislation is simple. It is simply to determine, ahead of time, whether or not the railroad's power of eminent domain is more powerful than the town's. If voted for by the Town the town's power will be the greater.

Both bodies do have that power, and it was for that reason that the Wilmington Housing Authority asked for (and has received) this legislation.

AN ENGINEER ON THE BOARD

The wisdom of having an engineer on the Board of Appeals was demonstrated, in a small way, last Thursday, during a hearing on proposed gravel operations.

Parker Hodgdon of Harris Street, newly appointed Associate Member of the Board was able to interpret for his fellow members the meaning of the contour lines and other features of a plan which they were studying. Mr. Hodgdon is a Civil Engineer by profession.

We have noted at times in the past a slight resentment or suspicion on the part of abutters when either one of the appellants or the Building Inspector was called upon to make such an interpretation.

There was no such feeling last Thursday, when one of the Board members explained what was meant by the proposal, as shown on the plan

THREE VARIANCES REFUSED BY BOARD OF APPEALS

The Board of Appeals, last Thursday, refused to grant variances on three appeals.

Mrs. Otto Swenson of Adams Street asked for a variance on property of her late cousin, Mrs. Symes of Woburn St.

Mrs. Swenson wanted to establish a right of way, or future roadway into the property while dividing the front of the lot into five houselots for her family. The proposed right of way would have been 50 feet wide, with rounded corners at the Woburn Street end.

The proposal was opposed by Bill Beers, chairman of the Planning Board, and the Board of Appeals sustained the Planning Board.

Two Houses

A proposal, by Dr. Morris Kelmon, of McDonald Road, that his property be divided into two house lots was also turned down by the Appeal Board.

Dr. Kelmon owns two houses on the one lot of land. Both houses have been there for many years, and the Doctor wants to sell one of them.

The area was zoned as 'rural' in 1955, but had mostly been cut up into houselots many years ago in the immediate vicinity of the Doctors home. The Doctor's proposals would have given each home a lot of over 100 feet by 100 feet.

Dr. Kelmon was unable to be present at his hearing. He was represented by James P. Donahue, of Cypress Street.

Shanniak Refused

Steve Shanniak of West Street appeared before the board with a proposal to divide his land, which is of considerable depth in from West Street, parallel to Suncrest Avenue, into two lots of land, both of which would have frontage on West St. The proposals were opposed by Mr. Beers of the Planning Board, who told the Board of Appeals that neither of the proposed lots of land would have adequate street frontage.

Mr. Shanniak's proposal was not approved by the Board of Appeals.

TOWN NOTES

Fishing

Fishing, at least for trout, is slow in Wilmington, in spite of the heavy stocking by the Department of Fish and Game.

The fishermen are waiting for the brooks and the Ipswich River to recede into their regular channels.

There are some big ones to be had, especially in the Ipswich. We have seen them.

With Interest

A news dealer friend of ours received a note the other day from one of his news boys. It said:

'I am sorry I am shot 42¢ because I spent it at the carnival I will pay you next week with 10¢ interest'

It's Still Missing

TM Cecil O. reported, or seemed to report to the Board of Selectmen, Monday night, that the missing town bound, that marks the common meeting place of Wilmington, North Reading, and Reading had been located by the Town Engineer.

The bound was reported missing a couple of years ago when work started nearby for Route 93. It stood, before the work began, on the north bank of the Ipswich River, at a site within 100 yards of the present highway.

We were intrigued by the TM's report, and undoubtedly Mr. Black was, because he asked if it would be possible to make a trip of inspection to that site, in the company of the Town Engineer.

We made our trip Tuesday, and there was no bound to be seen. Then we checked with the Town Engineer, and it seems that either he or Cecil were talking about two different bounds because the Town Engineer had located the granite bound a few hundred yards farther north, the one known as Jenkin's Corner.

The Town Engineer hasn't seen the missing bound either.

No Arrests Wanted

Police Chief Paul Lynch just doesn't want to arrest anybody today. He hasn't any place to lock up any arrestee, so he just isn't interested.

Paul has seven cells in the new police station, not yet ready for occupancy. He has two in the old police station which have been dismantled to the point that they cannot be used.

To be forced to arrest some one just now would be mighty embarrassing, is Paul's opinion

A Common Dilemma

The Wilmington Housing Authority finds itself in the same fix as many a householder who has had the weekly pay check held up, for some reason or other.

They have no money, even if they did receive a grant of $6,000 recently. The embarrassment is only temporary, however.

They did receive an allotment of $6,000, on paper, from the New York Regional Headquarters. It was necessary however that the WHA fill in certain requisitions.

When the requisitions arrived at New York it was learned that the forms had been just changed, and instead of mailing back a credit of $6000 the New York office mailed back a new set of forms.

Now those forms have been filled in, and mailed. Any day now the WHA can expect that money.

But in the meantime they are in the same position as the husband who asks his neighbor across the fence - 'Got a cigarette, Bud?'

Oh!

The trial, before the Federal Court, of Wright & Pierce vs. the Town of Wilmington was a topic of suppressed glee and merriment, last winter, among those who were cognizant of the case. The glee concerned the Justice, William T. McCarthy, whose retirement at the age of 76 was announced on Tuesday.

Justice McCarthy was noted for his dissertations in court some of which were not always on the subject at hand.

The testimony of ex-Town Manager Fred Calabrese was a case in point.

Counsel for the Town of Wilmington was very anxious that Fred be allowed to finish his testimony in one day, so that he could return to his home in Westport, Connecticut.

His honor apparently has relatives in that town, for when he heard that Fred was from Westport he started to tell everyone how he had taken a trip to Florida, recently, and returned via Long Island and Westport, visiting relatives en route. He expounded on the charms of Westport while counsel waited.

Finally, in an effort to break in, the counsel told his honor that Mr. Calabrese is a member of the Bar, Your Honor.

This led to a dissertation on the Connecticut Bar (Association of Lawyers), and praises for the distinguished jurists who make up that organization. Finally counsel broke in again.

Mr. Calabrese is a member of the Massachusetts Bar, Your Honor.

Oh!

Fred's testimony then proceeded without further interruption.

Rumor

Dame Rumor hath it that the Wilmington Trust is now negotiating to buy property between Lowell and Main Streets. Further than that she has nothing to say.

The Trust, as our readers know, was recently turned down by the Board of Appeals for a Middlesex Avenue site.

The Prom Decorations

The new decorations, purchased for the Junior Senior prom do credit to the faculty and high school students.

Designed to be permanent, and thus save money, they are a tasteful blend of colors.

High School Principal Bernard McMahon was worrying, just the same, lest something go wrong, and Tuesday he paid a surprise inspection as students were hoisting into place a part of the decorations. Barney wanted to know which rope, suspended from the ceiling, was the main support.

Lester Smith, High School Custodian volunteered to show him, and somehow the demonstration had a surprise ending as the rope was accidentally let go, and about 50 yards of material were suddenly draped around and on top of the person of Mr. McMahon.

He is still wondering if maybe it was a put up job.

More on Decorations

One of the decorations for the prom consists of a Wishing Well, one of paper mache or some such material, fashioned like the old style wells with a crank to pull up the bucket brimming with water.

We suggest that some smart senior might figure out a method of throwing pennies into the well, for wishes. It could develop into a source of revenue, such as has Avco Comptroller Bob Sumberg developed with the wishing pool at Avco.

JOHN BROOKS UPS DON KIDDER'S ANTE FOR MOTOR COACH LICENSE

Selectman John Brooks upped by amendment, a motion of Selectman Don Kidder, with regard to the fee for a license for the proposed Trombley Motor Coach service, through Wilmington, during the Selectmen's meeting, Monday night.

After a long discussion in which it was developed that neither Winchester nor Stoneham were charging for a license, Kidder moved that Wilmington charge $5, to cover costs.

Brooks asked if $5 would cover the costs, and the opinion was that it wouldn't.

He amended Kidder's motion to read $10, and the amended motion was voted.

The Wilmington Selectmen voted to grant the license, any time that formal application was made for it.

The discussion of a possible terminal in North Wilmington, at the parking lot, was temporarily tabled until such time as Mr Trombley would be ready to discuss the subject.

While Stoneham and Winchester have granted licenses, the Town of Andover, last week delayed granting the license pending further discussion of the proposed route.

The power will be transmitted from present facilities in Burlington to a new sub-station, to be built near Dragon Court, in North Woburn, and is to be of service to the towns and cities in the immediate vicinity, according to Boston Edison officials.

GIRL SCOUTS HEAR FIRST HAND REPORT OF JEANNE'S TRIP TO OLYMPICS

230 Girl Scouts and their guests, at the annual Mother Daughter Banquet, last Saturday, heard Jeanne Ashworth, Speed Skating Champion of the United States describe her experiences, and saw movies of those experiences at the Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley last February.

The banquet, held in the gaily decorated High School cafeteria, had an impressive list of guests at the head table. Included were Mrs William G. Lambert, Lowell Girl Scout Director, Mrs Thomas McSorley, Council Vice President, Mrs William Widger, Wilmington Coordinator, Rev. Father Edmund Burke of St. Thomas Church, Mrs S. Albert Kaufman of Congregation Ahavah Achim D'Aaron Mr. Julius Gordon of the Wilmington Hebrew Community Center, Selectwoman Mrs Wavie Drew, His Honor George Spanos, Honorary Mayor of Wilmington, representing the Town Manager; Mrs. Stanley Webber, of the Wilmington Community Fund, and Mrs. Frank Rawson of North Wilmington, Camp Site Committee Chairman.

Jeanne's movies, taken by herself and her family, were of the Olympics, showing the opening and closing ceremonies as events as they occurred. One of the scenes was of Jeanne, as she stood on the winner's stand and shook hands with Aveny Brundage, Olympic Committee Chairman, and others showed Jeanne practicing in competition with Finnish and Russian girls. The outstanding scene was of tag-skiing races, in the cross-country events.

Mrs. Barbara Lambert, of the Lowell Council showed movies of the 1959 Girl Scout Roundup in Colorado, with pictures of Girl Scouts from all over the world in their native costumes and she spoke on the Juliette Low fund, which helps girls all over the world.

Mrs. John Balch was in charge of arrangements for the banquet, and other workers included Publicity, Mrs Meyer Weinberg; Decorations Mrs William Dayton; Invitations, Mrs. John De Avignon; Welcoming Flag Ceremony, Mrs Ernest J. BEHIND THE SCENES

By Ken Crotty

Dottie Lamour, who was the epitome of glamour for movie goers in a series of films now referred to as the 'Road' pictures, was reminiscing about the past at the Mayfair in Boston.

Miss Lamour, still trim and lovely, was the guest of honor at a press party held in her honor.

Back 10 years ago she was the star of a traveling road show which spent a week in New England. It was called 'Movietime U.S.A.'

With her on that one-week stand were Debra Paget, Alfred Hitchcock and others. The movies at that time were already feeling the pinch from television. A number of different stars appeared in various sections of the country in a number of different caravans. All were called 'Movie Time, U.S.A.' The caravans were accorded a fine reception. They were free and that may have had something to do with it. But they didn't prevent television from gaining the upper hand.

The Dottie Lamour caravan packed them in from Providence to Portland.

One of the ports of call was the city of Brockton. The movie stars, all driven in spanking new Chrysler convertibles, came into the Shoe City as it was getting dark.

A stage had been erected in the center of the city. Here the mayor and other dignitaries were on hand to greet Dottie and her associates.

Halfway through the ceremonies some prankster in the crowd tossed a lime up on the stage. His intentions may have been okay but his aim was bad. The lime hit Dottie just below the eye. Another inch or two and she might have been injured seriously. Other limes hit Mr. Hitchcock on his broad back. Still another hit Debra Paget, who at that time was about 18 years of age.

The story was phoned to Boston. The old Boston Post gave it quite a play on the front page. The next day the first stop for the caravan was at Nashua, N.H.

IT ONLY HURTS A LITTLE

Dr. Gardner Lester inoculates one of Wilmington's canine population, last Saturday, at the Fire House, while Dog Officer Leo LeBlanc exerts a restraining influence. Inoculations against rabies were nearly 100 over the figure of a year ago, 491 dogs receiving shots. A year ago it was 399.

The mayor of Nashua showed up on the steps to City Hall with a catcher's mitt and catchers mask for Miss Lamour. Dottie laughs about this now. Well she might. That incident in Brockton on the first day of the tour made the tour a great hit.

The crowds were tremendous during the rest of the week. The amusing thing is at the Mayfair Miss Lamour was seated at the very next table to Sammy White, who recently truned in his catcher's mitt and mask for the Red Sox.

The PERI-SCOOP--Pleasure Island, which opened in Wakefield last year, was expected to be the Disneyland of the East.

It cost $2,500,000 to open the place and it attracted 350,000 cash customers during its 15 week season last year.

Even so, the operating loss for the first season was $450,000.

The Merchants National Bank of Boston holds a $600,000 mortgage on this place. Last week bank officials announced a 'firm' offer had been made for the white elephant of amusement parks.

The price was said to be in the neighborhood of $4000,000.

The biggest success story out of Hollywood is that Steve Reeves, the muscle man with the soprano voice, who jumped Mae West beefcake guards to become one of the most sought after U.S. actors in Europe.

The picture which made Muscle Man Reeves was 'Hercules'. It grossed $4,000,000.

TOWN COUNSEL ADVISES THAT APPEAL BOARD CANNOT RULE FOR STEVENS

The Town Counsel, Philip Buzzell, has notified the Board of Appeals that they cannot rule in favor of Harold Stevens, of lower Chestnut St. in his appeal for a division of his property.

Stevens, who owns about 2 1/2 acres of land, with a frontage of over 200 feet, in a rural zone, wished to divide his property, so as to have a house lot for a new home he proposes to build for himself near the street, and a 30 foot driveway to the rear of the property for his present home. The function was one for the Planning Board, and not for the Board of Appeals, Buzzell stated, in effect, and added that the Board of Appeals was not competent to rule, in this case.

BALLARDVALE STREET ATTENDS A HEARING
Residents of Ballardvale Street in the Town Hall, Thursday night, listening to the proposals for gravel operations (or grading operations, depending on point of view).
Miss Mary White, of Andover Street, a High School student, (foreground) is taking stenographic notes. She is replacing, with approval of the TM, the former recording device used by the Board of Appeals.

UPPER BALLARDVALE STREET IS INTERESTED

Practically all of the residents of upper Ballardvale St. were present at a hearing before the Board of Appeals, last Thursday evening, when earth moving operations being proposed by Don Robbins of Woburn Street were heard.

Don Robbins was represented by Atty. Alan Altman, who had very carefully prepared his exhibits.

The land in question comprised some 16 acres of land, in a long and relatively narrow lot, near the Andover line.

Altman told the Appeal Board that Mr. Robbins was proposing to grade the land, to fill in hollow places, and to remove the excess material, in an operation that might take until Dec. 31st of this year. He pointed out that the Andover property, nearby, was zoned for industry, and said that Mr. Robbins was in hopes that some day his property would be so zoned. He wanted to improve it, Mr. Altman said, for this purpose.

The neighbors were unhappy about the proposal. Birger Myrstad and Mrs. Myrstad both registered disapproval, and Mrs. William Bangs, another neighbor said she didn't want 'gravel operations'. 'Level the land, maybe, but not gravel operations'.

Mrs. John De Costa, who lives north of the proposed work, was in disagreement, as was her husband.

He pointed out that Ballardvale Street is in bad condition because of past gravel operations. Howard Murphy testified that he had broken a spring to his auto because of the bad condition of the street.

The Board are Judges

There was a considerable discussion about the number of persons present. Some of the persons appearing felt that the Board of Appeals would automatically rule against the proposal if all the neighbors were against it.

Chairman Louis Gage, of the Board of Appeals explained that the Board were the ones who decided. They did not necessarily rule against something because the neighbors objected, nor did they rule for it because the neighbors did not object. It was a 'public hearing' he explained, so that the board could get the benefit of the opinions and views of others.

Gravel Regulations

During the course of the discussion Altman explained to the neighbors that this operation would not be like some of those which had occurred in Wilmington in the past few years.

An Act of the Legislature, he told the group, now precludes any operations except under the control of the Selectmen.

His client was going to put up a $10,000 bond, and would guarantee that the topsoil would be windrowed back into place, and that grass would be planted over the area. It will probably be more attractive than it is now.

There was also discussion of rocks and ledges, with Philip Parks asking several times if the land had had borings.

Altman said a few holes had been dug, to assure that the proposed operations could be carried out.

The Appeal Board did not issue any immediate decision.

SKATING CLUB WANTS
LARGER RINK

The Wilmington Skating Club has requested the assistance of the Board of Selectmen for the purpose of constructing a larger rink, at their headquarters off Chestnut Street.

They have at present a rink which measures 16 laps to the mile, the same size as that in Boston Garden.

They wish to construct one that will have only six laps to the mile, measuring 390 feet long, and 190 feet wide, with tracks 22 feet wide. The new rink would enable the members of the Skating Club to practice on a track which more nearly approaches the European standards.

Walter Hinman, and Past Presidents James Tighe and Tom Galvin visited the Selectmen Monday night, to make arrangements, as they will be leasing land from neighbors to do what they plan, and they hope to make the leases co-incide with that of the Town of Wilmington for the land on which their present rink stands.

They were assured of all possible cooperation, by the Selectmen.

THE THEMES OF CLASSICAL MUSIC TO BE SUBJECT OF MUSICAL

Classical music can be a pleasure to the understanding mind, is to be the theme of a musical to be presented by Mrs. Dolores Chernoff, and her pupils, in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium, Sunday afternoon, at 2 pm.

There are to be a series of brief talks on the understanding of the various types of classical musics, as each of the pupils takes his part in the program.

The second part of the program is to consist of three-part harmonies, and a concert by Mrs. Chernoff, one of the most gifted pianists in the area.

Admission is to be free.

Professor Gubellini was appointed for a full three year term, while Boylen was appointed to fill the place of John Brooks, now a Selectman.

DUNTON ROAD DRAINAGE TO BE DONE, IF POSSIBLE

The long standing question of drainage, for Dunton Road, on Kelley's Hill will be cared for this year, if it is at all possible, James McMillan of that street was assured, by the Selectmen, Monday night.

The cost will be $900, Town Manager Cecil Lancaster told the Board of Selectmen. The problem has been discussed frequently by the Selectmen during the past several years, as water from the street tends to wash away soil from one of the homes in the area.

The road was paved by the town five years ago, under the 'special streets program', the first such road to be paved.

The last street on the program is Carolyn Road, in No. Wilmington, and if there is any money left over from that project, when it is completed this summer, it will be used on Dunton Road, Chairman Nick De Felice told McMillan.

MIDNIGHT SUPPER FOR JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

A midnight catered supper, starting at 12:10 am is to wind up the festivities of the annual Junior-Senior prom, at Wilmington High School, Saturday morning.

The Prom, featuring The Everglades, is to start at 8 pm on Friday the Thirteenth, in the High School Gymnasium, which is now being decorated by members of both classes for the occasion.

Instead of using crepe, as has been used in former years, the classes this year are using permanent materials, which has been bought by the Senior Class advisor, Bob Saba, and which can be used in future years as well.

Senior Class President Steve Brennick heads a committee of class officers from the two classes, in preparation for the dance.

Tickets have been sold for 120 couples of students.

PREPARING FOR THE PROM

High School Seniors Joan O'Connell, Barbara Ahromovitch and Fred McAndrew weave a palisade of roses, to be used as decorations for the Junior-Senior prom, Friday night.

Below, at the Fire House, fireproofing materials. Chief Arthur Boudreau is spraying some of the decorations, with assistance from Fireman Gus Blaisdell, Miss Joyce Carlton and Senior Class President Steve Brennick.

Also shown is a proof of the effectiveness of the fire-proofing, as Fireman Blaisdell applies a burning cigarette lighter to a bouquet of artificial flowers held by Miss Carlton.
